Dear Hampstead Hill Academy Families,

We hope you are well.

You may have heard that City Schools are planning to reopen schools for some students as early as February 15th. Charter Schools are being given some flexibility to determine our preferred date for a return to in-person instruction for our school communities. At least through the end of the month of February, the Baltimore Curriculum Project (BCP) schools will exercise this flexibility and will continue with the high-quality online instruction we are currently providing. We will not return to in-person instruction at least through the end of February.

Please be assured that returning to in-person instruction for all families who desire it for their children is of utmost importance to us all. We will continue to prepare for our eventual, and desired, return to such in-person instruction and when we do, our buildings will be safe, and our staff members will be fully supported in what will likely be a mix of in-person and online instruction.

We will update you in the next few weeks.

Thank you,

Matt Hornbeck
